Hall Hire

Are we all aware that the hall has had a great compliment from the Waitakere City Council? As reported in the last newsletter, our facilities are among the best – just what YOU need for a function.

Do you need somewhere tranquil, with bush views, a large kitchen, a stage, a large hall and tables and seating for 80?

Do you need to bring your workmates together for a training session – or a party? To celebrate a birthday or an anniversary? What's wrong with a boot fair, or your own garage sale?

CHARGES ARE:

1 – 2 hour sessions $20
Half day hire $60
Half day and evening function (deposit required) $150

The hall is currently used by the table tennis club and drama club. Come and look at the facility.

Contact Les on 814 1130 or 021 102 6670 or Dave on 814 9697.

Weedfree Waiatarua

It was wonderful to see how well the weed bin at Kauri Loop Road has been used. However, demand has been greater than the bin could cope with, so I am attempting to get a permanent weed bin at this site.

In the meantime, you can ring Waitakere City Council on 839 0400, and they will send out 12 free bags for ginger only. These are collected on rubbish days. You can also ask them for a Green Network Pack which describes the bad weeds and how to control them. The Nasty Nine are: ginger, jasmine, wandering jew, climbing asparagus, plectra, moth plant, blue morning glory, smilax and japanese honeysuckle. If you have a major problem with these weeds, you can apply to the Council for a free nine cubic metre bin which you have 2 weeks to fill.

You can also ring the Keep Waitakere Beautiful Weedfree Trust on 826 4276 and they will send you free bags – for the above weeds only – which they will collect when full. The Trust also does site visits and offers advice on weed management.

Please note, all these free services are for environmental weeds only.

Volunteer Value

Waitakere is well known throughout the country as the community-group capital of New Zealand, and Waiatarua is no slacker in the volunteer organisation department. We acknowledge and appreciate the volunteer efforts of the Ratepayers' Association committee, newsletter editors, printers and distributors, librarians, performing artists, Fire Brigade and many others that contribute their time.

However, I believe it would be a safe bet that most of us have never considered what that contribution means in dollar terms. Thanks to the work of Canadian Professor Dr. Ronald Colman, in 'The Economic Value of Civic and Voluntary Work in Nova Scotia' (July 1998), we can estimate the impact on our city's economy.

The population of Waitakere is around 180,000, of which approximately 75% (135,000) are over 15 years old. In Canada, which we think of as comparable to New Zealand in many ways, the average number of volunteer hours per person per year is 140 hours. That's 18.9 million volunteer hours per year!

Dr. Colman calculated in 1998 that, if the city had to hire someone to do the work, the average labour cost would be CAN$15.66 per hour. Allowing for the exchange rate, and inflation since then (20.9%), the labour 'replacement cost' here would be NZ$22.92 per hour.

At 18.9 million hours per year, the volunteer sector is contributing over $433 million to the Waitakere City economy in labour alone. So volunteers, thank you; your value to our community is far more than we realised. And the great news is, you don't have to pay any tax on those wages you aren't receiving!

From the Editor

Jenny Bebbington

I know that many of us in Waiatarua are now losing the last of the summer sun. I personally find myself dangling precariously off the deck railings, scrambling onto the barbecue table and making lightning speed dashes as the sun momentarily peeks through the kauris. The time is approaching where the risk of impaling myself on a nikau as I reach frighteningly scary heights is just too risky, so other body warming options are a must. Luckily we have many choices here in Waiatarua, including table tennis on Tuesday nights, quiz nights and the debate, to name just a few. So the war that has taken over our household, as we all battle to get the sunny spot (at times ending in tears), has been laid to rest, and our energies focused on making the most of winter in Waiatarua.

This month I warmly welcome two new contributors to our newsletter; Jan Haine (WRRRA Treasurer), who has extensive experience in publishing and a strong community commitment and Kevin Healy who has vast community involvement in West Auckland. So keep an eye out for their articles, they are sure to be inspiring and informative.

Take care and until next time...Jenny Bebbington

Our 2 May get together is to visit Twin Palms Garden, at 356 Shelly Beach Rd, near Helensville. This garden has all year colour and features a waterfall, semi-tropical areas, proteas and climbers. The entry fee is $3 and Diane will have plants for sale at very low prices for those among us who can't go home empty handed. Meet at 11:00am and we will lunch at the MacNuts Cafe after checking out the French Orchards Estate at Shelly Beach. After discussion this last Wednesday at Glendowie, I have now booked for us to visit Nestlebrae in the afternoon – entry fee $5. We will be learning all about Floral Art on 6 June when we have Betty Stoneham to give us a demonstration. We will meet at 1:00pm and there will be a small charge. Ring for details of location.

All Waiataruans are invited to join us. Ring Eileen on 814 9298 or Margaret on 814 9859 for further information or to arrange car pooling.

American Field Service Exchanges

AFS grew from the WWI and WWII volunteer ambulance workers who, when war ended, decided to develop an exchange programme that would make it possible for young people from many countries to spend a year at school in another country, getting to understand the culture of that place and thus broadening their own world view.

Host an AFS Intercultural Exchange Student. Volunteer Host Families are wanted for students 15-18 years old arriving at the end of June from Austria, Canada, Switzerland, Bolivia, Italy, France and Egypt. Add a new member to your family and make links that last a lifetime.

For information, call Brenda on 818 5520

Hi All, well I guess summer is fast disappearing with a bit of rain starting to occur, but don't be fooled – the fire ban is still in effect until 31st April.

As a result of a certain member of our household getting three tickets for doing 56km/hr near New Lynn school, I contacted Theresa McCabe (Glen Eden Community Constable) to clarify the law, which she kindly has done as follows:

- The regulations relate to the existing speed limits for the area, so that if a driver passes a school at more than 5 km/h over the speed limit they are likely to receive an infringement notice.
- The regulations apply from 250 metres either side of the school and between 0730 and 1800 hrs or AT ANY OTHER TIME when there is any school activity, including sports.
- Oratia and Waitakere; and soon Henderson Valley Primary; have 40km/hr signs that light up for about half an hour before school starts. These means that a ticket will be issued for speeds in excess of 45km/hr, BUT ONLY WHEN THE SIGNS ARE LIT. If an officer started earlier than that he would have to abide by the existing speed limit for the area and use the appropriate tolerance.

My question is: how do we know when we are 250 metres from the school (when in a strange area), or when a special event is on? I have done my own survey and find that not all schools have signs at 250 metres to warn us. The simple answer is treat the speed tolerance as 5km/hr not 10km/hr at all times. When I tried to explain to my grandson that the speed limit is 50 but you can do 60, he responded "How does that make sense?".

While we are on the subject of road safety, some people have expressed regret at the demise of the Roadwatch Report. If you see anything that you feel needs bringing to our attention please phone or email me and I will include it in my report and send it out via hotmail.

We have had the first quiz night and what a roaring success it was, with another planned for June.

I hope you managed to get to see 'The Odd Couple' because if you didn't you missed a great play.

Hey, we have 59 families that are financial members and, as a consequence, save money at Glen Eden Landscape Supplies, Elevations Licensed Café and Restaurant, Glen Eden Colourplus Paint and Wallpaper and Elke's Wine and Food Market. As well as that they are kept up to date with the latest happenings via The W.R.R.A Hotmail, an email information service. Do you want to be part of this? Just send $10 per family to the Treasurer at 911 West Coast Rd, Waiatarua or drop the envelope in the box on the way past. Don't forget to include your name, address, phone number and email.

Till next month – Dave

We hosted the Piha & Karekare Brigades for a combined hazardous materials / car crash exercise last month. Waiatarua led the Hazmat part of the exercise and Piha showed us their expertise with their newly-acquired cutting equipment, purchased courtesy of a grant from the Licensing Trust. Many thanks to Lynne at Otimai for allowing us to use their carpark as a venue – much appreciated.

Outside Fires:

Between May 1 and the end of November you don't need a permit from the Council to light a fire in the open. But your fire must still meet WCC's Bylaw conditions – these include being supervised and under control at all times, not a nuisance to your neighbours and out by sunset. For full conditions go to www.waitakere.govt.nz and type 'rural fire' in the search box.

CONTACTS: Always phone 111 if you want the Fire Service to attend an incident. For non-urgent queries call Ian Ford (814 8871), Helen Longley (814 9855) or Karl Nuttall (814 8777).

A SPOTLIGHT ON WAITAKERE ESTATE

It is probably safe to say that most of those who venture down the kilometre-long driveway to attend functions, seminars, weddings and weekend escapes, are not aware of the wonderful history of this iconic landmark.

In 1939 Captain Neville Jackson, an airline pilot working in Victoria with Reg Ansett (later to become Sir Reg Ansett, the founder of Ansett Airlines) came to New Zealand to assist with the training of kiwi pilots for Tasman Empire Airlines – TEAL, now known as Air New Zealand. As Auckland's only airport was at Whenuapai, Captain Neville Jackson often flew over the Waitakere Ranges. His fascination with the rugged terrain prompted him to make many visits to the area. Whilst considering land on Scenic Drive where the tower now stands, he noticed an interesting area to the left and discovered 70 acres running from Scenic Drive to Opanuku Road – or Track, as it was in those days. In conjunction with another devotee, the Captain managed to purchase this considerable part of the ranges and commenced a labour of love.

In between flying around New Zealand and the Pacific; in Sunderland Flying Boats during the war years and then in DC3s, Viscounts and finally Electras; the Captain devoted his spare time to developing the property. His first task in 1940 was to cut a driveway to his chosen site. Using only people-power it was back breaking work, but fortunately salvation arrived in the form of Tom Clark of Crown Lynn Pottery fame, who happened to have a bulldozer handy. After three days access was achieved. The captain then set about building his home which was made out of a wooden aeroplane packing case – in those days aeroplanes were transported by ship to New Zealand.

The story of the founding years of the Estate or Park Lodge was related to the writer by Reg Neville Jackson who currently runs the estate. One of the Captain's three children, Reg recalls spending his early days living in splendid isolation. In fact, it was so isolated that Reg's primary education was via correspondence. Even if a school had been handy it would have been pot luck as to whether he could get there each day as it seems the road out was often impassable owing to slips which could take months to clear. Fortunately, owing to the Captain's airline duties, his car was always on the other side of the slip. This ensured the regular supply of provisions, with Reg, his brother and sister meeting the Captain at the slip.

As the property grew the entire family was involved in various aspects of construction. During down time the kids used to climb up through the bush to Scenic Drive to visit with Rose Hellaby and enjoy afternoon tea with this local identity. Reg recalls Rose with great affection; her generous spirit and personality plus her tendency to roar down Scenic Drive and Forest Hill Road like a rally car driver. After correspondence school, Reg attended boarding school and later University, graduating as an accountant. He worked with Robert Muldoon's firm in Auckland for a while, but overseas beckoned and a two year trip turned into 20 years away. During Reg's long OE the property continued to evolve, including a major effort in the 1970s, when the kilometre long driveway from Scenic Drive was formed and the Lodge began catering for conferences. Upon his return in 1996 Reg recalls that the staff consisted of one chef, one assistant, Reg, and any family members available.

Today, the Estate employs up to twenty staff catering for social functions, seminars, weddings, accommodation and weekend brunches and dinners. Unlike the old days, there are now two methods of entering the property; drive in or use the onsite helipad. However, in true Neville Jackson tradition nothing stands still, and plans are underway to refurbish the suites, restaurant and lounge.

The Arataki Rangers' Roundup

This is a busy time of year for the nurseries around the Park, with so many trees in berry. The Arataki Nursery has been involved in an eco-sourcing programme with several local schools. Seeds are collected from the wild and propagated, then half of the successful seedlings are returned to their area of origin, and the other half are planted at the school or put towards a school project. This results in an increase in germination success and a higher degree of survivability for the young plants.

Sports Enterprise New Zealand (SENZ) has helped with bagging seedlings during this busy period. During their visits over the year they will have a variety of experiences at Arataki and around the Park. Friends of Whatipu also collected seed from the Arataki area representing ten different species. These were planted at the nursery. Please keep in mind that it is unlawful to remove seeds from the Park without the appropriate permit. If you would like to be involved, contact the Arataki Visitor Centre on 817 0077 for volunteer information.

There was some excitement on April 2; when we received warning from civil defence of a tsunami originating from the Solomon Islands. Park staff were deployed to popular beaches and car parks to warn the public. As it turned out, the tsunami had a negligible impact here.

Once again, that is all for this month. Ka kite – The Arataki Rangers

Focus on Business

Waitatarua is home to a huge number of businesses and organisations; some of which directly provide products and services to local residents, while others have chosen Waitatarua as the base for their operations in a wider market. Focus on Business starts this month as a regular column dedicated to celebrating and showcasing the businesses (and the entrepreneurial and often inspiring people who run them) that are an integral and valued part of our community.

In addition to those with a highly visible presence in Waitatarua, there are many (partly or fully) home-based businesses tucked away in our bush-clad hills. A Waitakere City Council survey¹ highlights this, publishing findings that (throughout Waitakere City) "about half of businesses conduct at least some of their business from home". Other parts of the survey point fairly heavily towards Waitatarua, with Titirangi, Glen Eden and Henderson Valley also featuring prominently among the areas where small businesses (more likely to be home-based) predominate.

It's been exciting to begin to uncover the sheer diversity of our local businesses, from a sewing machine dealer, a rug importer and a freight company, to artists, web designers, advertising and media specialists and a wide range of consultants, as well as educators, corporate entertainers, child care providers, all our wonderful trades people, and so many more, that make up the business community of Waitatarua.

In the next few months, we'll bring you the people behind some of these businesses, finding out how they operate and how their organisations fit into our community.
