Brabant Road	17	23rd (15 mm)	57 mm	1044 mm
Quinns Road	18	1st (20mm)	54 mm	908 mm
Forest Hill Road	12	1st, 22nd (12 mm)	54 mm	946 mm
Auckland City			37 mm	612 mm

Opinions expressed in this newsletter are not necessarily those of the Editor or the Waiatarua Ratepayers and Residents Association.

As I stood in front of the women's bathroom mirror at Waiatarua's Community Hall rehearsing my incessant lines for the latest drama production, two strange things happened: I was suddenly reminded of every "said the actress to the bishop" joke I'd ever heard; and I inexplicably managed to conjure up an auditory reminder of those awful TV show titles such as 'When Chainsaws Attack'. Why? Well, let me try and explain. You see, my relationship with this local hall has become rather intimate – I seem to be spending more and more time up there (along with many others). Every nook and cranny appears to ooze juicy gossip and colourful history.

It set me to thinking... imagine if halls could talk!

Think of the events that would have taken place on this community-centred plot, and within the walls of the current hall.

In June 2004, we reported "our very own community hall is planted on the site where Mrs Impey once provided care for Tubercular patients in Nihotupu House". Bless her.

The completion of Waiatarua's public facility in the early 1970's must have been an auspicious occasion. At last people sharing common interests were able to meet in larger numbers outside of their own homes.

Council related events could now happen on residents' doorsteps e.g.. polling booths!

Waiatarua soon sprung an early drama group which led on to the building of their very own clubhouse, called 'Badgers', still standing in all its glory at the bottom of the driveway. I'm sure the hall would have hosted a great variety of events over the years. Those floorboards must have steadfastly supported thousands of tapping feet at many a lively shin-dig. No doubt, the place was often thick with smoke in the days of 'cigarette acceptance' – the perfect atmosphere for those raunchy love-at-first looks across crowded rooms.

Of course the WRRRA meetings brought a different facet to the goings on within. Countless heated discussions most definitely would have taken place, naturally with the community's best interests at heart. The association obviously also made the most of the venue by organising information evenings, meet the candidates sessions, community breakfasts, wine and cheese nights, Autumn Festivals and the like.

1996 to 2002 saw the community centre rocked by the trilogy series "Phone 1125-J", the Fire Brigade's much appreciated contribution to performing arts, which went on to form a TV documentary.

Let's not forget the quaint community library, housed in the hall basement, and enjoyed by those of us who prefer to select their reading from this tranquil environment rather than battle the traffic of suburbia.

Keeping things in the family, a neighbouring playcentre continues to responsibly provide fun and education to local kids. Bravo!

Getting back to 'talking walls' however, my mind runs away with me visualising weddings, anniversaries, birthdays, barbecues, music-halls, rummage sales, karate classes, slide shows and more recently – civil union celebrations.

With the passage of time, additions arrived and upgrades have occurred e.g. heaters, new curtains, comfortable chairs, an annexe, wheelchair-access bathroom, new kitchen with modern appliances etc.

Nevertheless, the ladies toilet represents an icon, almost too precious to replace. Who in their right mind could contemplate silencing those beloved rattling pipes which have carried gallons of water to many a hearty flush?

Happy contemplation. . . .

Hi All - I write this month expressing views as an individual, and as I see my role as President. This has been brought on by Tony Bacon's letter to the editor last month, and although I could have responded then I decided to leave the arena open for your comments. Well, we heard from six people, three before newsletter release (including Tony) and three after. I'm sure there are others who never responded but more importantly, criticisms were made about the present committee which I take exception to.

As President I only have one vote on committee but I do have an obligation and duty to guide the committee in the right direction, so I also take such comments personally.

How does one end up as President? Well basically, turn up at the A.G.M put your hand up (usually the only one) and you're it. Nobody is interested in how you see the association running, what your ideals are or anything; other than 'some sucker took the job'.

Well I'm going to tell you how this sucker thinks, in case I decide to stand in February; thus giving you plenty of time to stand or vote against me. The first thing I'll make clear is that nothing has changed my mind on the decision we made this time about political candidates meetings, and in fact Oratia came to the same decision. The other thing is, as far as I'm concerned, just because it was always done that way in the past doesn't mean it was right, popular or will be done again.

I have studied the constitution and have copied the Objects as they appear with comments to each one:

OBJECTS:

The objects of the Association which is a 'non-party political' Association shall be:

1. To encourage and organise combined efforts to achieve the objects hereinafter set forth.

Comment - Standard opening item.

2. To co-operate with the Statutory Bodies in looking after the affairs of the District and to secure the maximum fair expenditure of the General Rates levied by such Bodies within the District for the benefit of ratepayers, residents and visitors.

Comment - This to me means to work with and monitor the activities of the Waitakere City Council as it affects our area. We have representation at most community board meetings, working parties such as: Ranges Protection, long term district plan, wastewater management. We have liased on behalf of individuals as well as the community on matters concerning Wheelie bins, septic tank cleaning, road safety and many others.

3. To pursue and undertake any activity with the object of establishing, improving or preserving social, cultural or sporting activities or amenities or the unique natural environment of the area.

Comment - This is to me the fun part and in the last 18 months we have re-established the drama club, held a community breakfast, information night (who, what, why), volunteers xmas B.B.Q, produce a monthly newsletter (which I might add is the envy of neighbouring Ratepayers groups) and are currently working on another breakfast, b.b.q. and the Autumn Festival. With other activities in the pipeline. . .

4. To co-operate with or act in support of any person or organisation in or towards the achievements of the objects of the Association.

Comment - Well covered above.

I am proud of what we as a committee have achieved in the last 18 months, and it is my intention we will continue on a similar path.

Two comments we received were: "Principal reason for our existence was to provide public debate forums" and "Political candidates meeting the single most important thing we do". If that's the case I'm the wrong man, as I believe a good community environment for the majority is our mandate.

The original notification of no meeting was in the July newsletter and it took a month for the first complaint. Instead of complaining, somebody could have offered their services to organise or help organise one.

You have an enthusiastic committee covering many age groups and we intend to move forward with new direction and focus. Thanks. - Dave Pocock

Roadwatch Report

Les Duffield

How would you like to wake up to the screech of brakes and a loud thump, followed by the sound of a car rolling over? How many times, even the driver didn't know!

To my relief, on arriving at the scene (after a very hasty dress), I found the driver had crawled out of the vehicle unharmed and was talking to another driver.

West Coast Road had claimed another victim. This motorist was aware that she wasn't speeding, but probably was going too fast for the conditions. At that location there are ripples on the road surface and, when wet, this combination can be lethal. Thanks to the other drivers (both tradesmen) who stopped to assist in the traffic control.

Please slow down and drive carefully. There is no such thing as an accident – these occurrences are crashes. The difference: driver responsibility.

To Sonya: I would like to thank you for stopping your run and helping my daughter who was comforting an injured cat at the side of the road. Sonya not only stopped, but went and got her car and took the cat to the vet. Thank you.

Forest Hill Road: re the slip area where we have to go to a single lane (horrible little bumps, are they not?). Work should have started by the 19th of September, and this will last about a month. Cross over to West Coast Road via Kelly's Road, but watch out for speeding cars.

- Les Duffield

Tickets Going Fast

If you have not already secured your tickets to the comedy play "A Knight To Remember" at our local hall (911 West Coast Rd.), presented by Waiatarua Performing Arts Society, then get in quick! The final night is completely sold out, but you may still be lucky for Sept. 28, 29, 30 @ 8.00pm. Adults $15-00 and children $10-00. Phone: Gary on 814 8737.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

On Friday 8th September I had a few musician friends over to our studio (4 Rlm Rd) for a night of music & celebration. I sincerely apologise to all neighbours who may have been annoyed by the loud sounds of drum, bass, guitars & voices.

However, to the person who called Waitakere City Council Noise Control (who arrived at 11.40pm) I have this to say: Why not just come over & tell us we are too noisy? Or you could have phoned - my number is frequently in the Waiatarua News, advertising drama classes (it is 814 9744, by the way). If you had done so, I would have apologised profusely & probably sent you chocolates or flowers. You instead decided to call the authorities?! What's with that? That is not very neighbourly. I can only surmise that you have no fortitude to actually speak to fellow human beings, & probably live a pathetic life with no fun. I am extremely sorry for you. Next time you hear us enjoying ourselves, why not come & join us? You are more than welcome. You might just enjoy yourself.

Yours sincerely, John Goudge

Dear Editor

After an unpleasant reminder of how harsh our roads can be late on the evening of September 1st, I was prompted to write this letter. I don't know the names of the poor people who lost two dogs, probably as a result of being hit by a vehicle; and I can only imagine the hurt they must be feeling. I'd like to thank the lady, in the Nissan Langley/Pulsar, who stopped to help collect these pets off the corner of Kelly's and Forest Hill Road that evening. I am sure she was just as upset about the unpleasant scene as I was. So just remember, if you are travelling on our roads, that anything unexpected may happen. And if you are unfortunate enough to injury an animal, it would be really nice if you would stop and assist.

- M.S.

Fire Brigade

Ian Ford

Outside fires don't need a fire permit until the end of November. You DO still need to follow Council bylaws - the fire must be supervised, out by sunset, at least 10 metres from a building and 3 metres from the boundary, have a cleared area around it and have some means of control (e.g. a hose). You can be required to extinguish it at any time if it is a nuisance to your neighbours or the Fire Brigade believe it to be unsafe.

Recent Calls

As at the time of writing, it's seven weeks since the fire siren last sounded in anger on 29th July. Well done everyone!

The Fire Station was used as a base for a Police search on Wednesday the 14th of September. There was concern about an elderly gentleman missing for several hours after visiting a relative in Waiatarua. The Police helicopter and dog teams had been searching for a couple of hours, and Search and Rescue volunteers were starting to set up when he was located safe and well.

Phone 111 for a fire or other emergencies. Otherwise you can call Ian Ford (814 8871), Helen Longley (814 9855) or Karl Nuttall (814 8777).

Heartfelt thanks for your generosity Michelle, way beyond your contribution as WRRRA minute-taker!

The Arataki Rangers RoundUp

Kia ora. It seems like spring has arrived early to the Waitakere Ranges. The kowhai and clematis are already in flower and the tuis are having a ball around Arataki. We have been busy with general maintenance of the park over the last month, taking advantage of the great weather to do some weed control and track work.

We have installed two new seats on the Zig Zag track. The seats were made by Bill Beveridge of the Friends of Arataki after a donation was made to the group. The Friends of Arataki chose the seat locations to give great views and tranquil resting spots on the track.

Over the next couple of months we will be running a Pig Control programme throughout the park. The objectives of this programme are to remove all feral pigs within the Waitakere Ranges. This programme will also meet Animal Health Board requirements for the testing of TB. Pig control will be undertaken by three hunting teams and will occur on weekdays only. For information regarding dates and areas for control, please phone the Arataki Visitor Centre on 817-0077.

Finally, some mystery at Whatipu Lodge for you... recently a team of contractors had an interesting find when excavating the tennis court at Whatipu Lodge. Whilst digging up the concrete, they noticed some teeth and fragments of bone. The digging was put on hold while a team of archaeologists came to investigate the discovery. A number of bone fragments (including human, bird, sheep, cow) along with nails, window glass, obsidian flakes, railway spikes, slate pencils were found. Dr Lisa Matisoo-Smith (University of Auckland) identified the 'use wear' pattern on the teeth as typical of pre-European Maori. The remains were not indicative of a primary burial and were in a very disturbed deposit. This material most likely represents a collection of fossicked material gathered by itinerant visitors to Whatipu and later discarded!

Until next time, keep smiling!

-Ka kite from The Arataki Rangers
